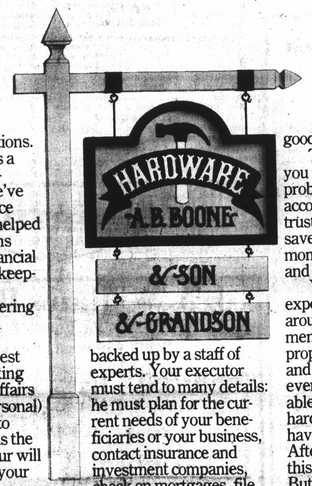
WE'VE BEEN MINDING YOUR BUSINESS FOR A LONG, LONG TIME.



Five generations. That qualifies as a long time in anybody's bank. We've been around since 1865 and have helped a lot of Virginians solve a lot of financial problems. Like keeping a hardware business hammering away. Or a farm growing.

One of the best methods of making sure that your affairs (business or personal) stay in order is to name Fidelity as the executor of your will or as trustee of your estate. Or both.

Acting as executor of a will isn't easy, and we don't ask one person to do it. Of course, you have one person to contact, but he's backed up by a staff of experts. Your executor must tend to many details: he must plan for the current needs of your beneficiaries or your business, contact insurance and investment companies, check on mortgages, file complicated tax returns and on and on. The details are staggering. But since our people have years of experience they'll probably save your beneficiaries a good deal of money.

There's no doubt that you need a will, and you probably need a trust account also. Because a trust account can really save your beneficiaries money. When you pass on and for years to come.

You see, our trust experts can move money around (via prudent investments, tax brackets, property management, and so on) so that you get every tax advantage available. And by now, there's hardly a situation we haven't come up against. After all, we've been at this for a long, long time. But c'mon, test us. Call one of our trust officers. Call Floyd L. Eggleston at 352-7124.

Continental Telephone Plans Expansion Program

Continental Telephone of Virginia has announced a construction and expansion program of $26,200,000.00 for 1976. Company President, William Dales said, "This budget reflects our confidence in the continuing growth of the area we serve, and in an upturn of the economy in general."

The budget represents an investment of more than $104,800.00 for each working day of the year.

Several major projects are scheduled in each of the company's four districts. In the Western District, major additions include lines and terminals in the offices of Appomattox, Pamplin, Broadway and Edom. Another $300,000.00 will be spent in the Western District on EAS and toll expansion.

These expenditures in this area and throughout the state are expected to increase Continental Telephone of Virginia's plant investment to $262,753,000.00 by the end of 1976. The company also expects to place approximately 12,600 additional telephones in service.

"Man's rich with little, were his judgment true;
Nature is frugal, and her wants are few.
Those few wants answered;
bring sincere delight;
But fools create for themselves new appetites.
Fancy and Pride such 'things' at vast expense;
Which relish not to reason nor to sense.
Like cats in airpumps, to fulfil we thrive;
On joys to thin to keep the soul alive."
